

DEPARTMENT OF
ENGLISH
College of Arts and Sciences

Make an IMPACT with a degree in English with Screen Studies Option

STUDY the art of film, television, and digital culture
HELP TO SHAPE the media of the future
LEARN about the film & TV industries

	FIRST YEAR	SECOND YEAR	THIRD YEAR	FOURTH YEAR+
Your Courses	Get started with the fundamentals: ENGL 2453 (Introduction to Film &amp; TV)	Familiarize yourself with the history of American and international cinema with ENGL 3453, 3463	Explore more specific interests and approaches to the study of media with ENGL 3263, 3353, 3433, 3443, 3473	Engage in advanced study of film and media with upper-division courses such as ENGL 4253, 4350, 4450
Your Experience	Discover arts programming on the OSU campus in film, theater, art, and music	Explore study abroad opportunities; consider writing on film and the arts for The O'Colly	Take a summer course at the Doel Reed Center in Taos, New Mexico ; take a production course at Tulsa's Center for Poets and Writers	Present research at the Southern Plains Conference or Undergraduate Research Symposium
Your Community	Join the OSU Film Society and English Club to meet other majors	Attend screenings of Exciterbulb, an avant-garde film series	Attend talks by invited speakers; explore local film and TV culture and resources in Tulsa and Oklahoma City	Run for officer positions in student organizations; consider planning campus events related to film and television
Your Career Readiness	Meet with a faculty member to discuss opportunities available to you as a Screen Studies major	Look into internships in the local film & TV industry ( Oklahoma Film &amp; Music Office, Red Dirt Film Festival, Prairie Surf Studios , etc.)	Work with a faculty member to publish research in the undergraduate film journals Film Matters or Aspect	Meet with Career Services, visit the Writing Center for help with your resume , and/or apply to graduate school.

YOU WILL LEARN

How to analyze and interpret moving-image media.
How film and TV industries have operated historically and presently.
To engage with global cultures through their media productions. How to research and write effectively for a general audience

WHAT IS NEXT

Work in media-related fields such as programming, public relations, museums and film festivals, or screenwriting

Pursue advanced study in graduate school. Work as a practitioner or teacher of media.

Your Personalized Path Consider a minor in Screen Studies as a supplement to your major course of study

Learn more about building your custom path, visit:
english.okstate.edu

