Emily Taylor (Applied Strings Faculty)

Emily Taylor is a 5th year student at Oklahoma State University studying music education. Since starting violin 13 years ago, Emily has studied with Professor Ashley Cooper, Dr. Laura Talbott-Clark, and Dr. Jacqueline Skara. You might meet Emily in strings or piano musicianship class, violin group class, or private violin lessons. Emily's teaching is a blend of several influences, always centering the student, and platforming a diverse range of composers. Emily enjoys working with different types of learners, and believes anybody, regardless of ability, age, or creed, can learn to have fun making music.
