

The Department of Sociology at Oklahoma State University's

O.D. Duncan Award

The O.D. Duncan Award was established in the name of O.D. Duncan who established the Department of Sociology and Rural Life in 1936 at Oklahoma A&S (OSU). He was chairman of the department until his retirement in 1963. This was set up as a scholarship, but the funding dwindled, and the department decided to continue this as recognition of an outstanding student.

One undergraduate student is awarded per year, and the student must be:

1) Majoring in one of the majors under The Department of Sociology (Sociology, Applied Sociology, or Anthropology), 2) preferably a senior, an outstanding scholar who represents the Sociology discipline, and 3) have a 3.50+ gpa.

Please include the application below and a resume.
